

JOIN THE FLORIDA CITY AND COUNTY MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION (FCCMA) NEXT GENERATION INTERN PROGRAM!

Are you a dynamic, forward-thinking student ready to make a real impact in local government? Look no further than the FCCMA Next Generation Intern Program! We're excited to offer an incredible opportunity for you to shine in the world of public administration.

Why Choose the FCCMA Next Generation Intern Program?

Four Exciting Internships: We offer a total of four paid internship opportunities, each providing a unique experience to talented individuals like you.

Hands-On Experience: Work directly with local governments! Through a competitive process, you'll be matched with impactful projects and dedicated mentors who will guide your growth.

Networking Opportunities: Attend the FCCMA conference (held in late May/early June), thanks to the Next Generation Task Force. Build valuable connections with local government professionals and fellow interns.

Compensation: These competitive internships are paid and can serve as the required internship for any university degrees that require that component (credit details should be confirmed with your university's internship coordinator).

What Makes the Ideal Candidate?

Eligibility: Are you the right fit? The Next Generation Intern program is looking for highly motivated undergraduate OR graduate students! Current graduate students must have at least 12 hours of relevant coursework in MPA, MBA, urban planning, health administration or related fields. Undergraduates must have at least 60% (72 credit hours) of coursework completed in public administration or related fields. You should also have a strong academic standing. Your application should include one academic recommendation and one personal or professional recommendation. Top candidates will proceed to an interview.

Community Involvement: Preference will be given to those students engaged in public service in their communities or organized public service chapters, such as the International City/County Management Association (ICMA), Florida City and County Management Association (FCCMA), National Forum for Black Public Administrators (NFBPA) and more.

Summer of Learning: Our internship program runs from May 15 to August 15, giving you a real taste of local government work during the summer season.

Ready to kickstart your career in public administration? Join the FCCMA Next Generation Intern Program and make a difference in your community.
